What people appreciate about me...

- I'm hard working, always very happy to help
- I'm approachable - sharing my knowledge or a sounding board if people need it
- I'm a team player and I like working with others to complete projects efficiently

What's important to me...

- My family, friends and my dog Olive
- Constantly staying busy, I love a house or garden project / always have something going on! It's my way of switching off from work. I prefer to start work early to give myself more time in the evenings
- Staying active and keeping fit
- Striving for high performance and recognising good work. I'm passionate about making lasting improvements, often by challenging practices that have only continued because 'that's how they've always been done'

How to support me well at work...

- Keep me updated and in the loop as soon as possible. I prefer being in the know to avoid last-minute surprises or changes
- Do things properly
- I like to think things through thoroughly and appreciate detail
- Bring solutions not just problems
- If you're presenting information, tell me why it matters and the big picture
- I appreciate everyone being respectful and kind
- Give me opposing views and if it's the right forum, I'll provide mine. I think challenge creates high performance
