

Self-assessment form

This self-assessment form should be completed by the complaints officer and it must be reviewed and approved by the landlord's governing body at least annually.

Once approved, landlords must publish the self-assessment as part of the annual complaints performance and service improvement report on their website. The governing body's response to the report must be published alongside this.

Landlords are required to complete the self-assessment in full and support all statements with evidence, with additional commentary as necessary.

We recognise that there may be a small number of circumstances where landlords are unable to meet the requirements, for example, if they do not have a website. In these circumstances, we expect landlords to deliver the intentions of the Code in an alternative way, for example by publishing information in a public area so that it is easily accessible.

Section 1: Definition of a complaint

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary/explanation
1.2	A complaint must be defined as: 'an expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about the standard of service, actions or lack of action by the landlord, its own staff, or those acting on its behalf, affecting a resident or group of residents.'	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: WHAT IS A COMPLAINT Our definition of a complaint, in line with that used by the Housing Ombudsman, is: An expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about Gloucester City Homes, a member of staff's, or a partner's: • action, or • lack of action, or • standard of service which affects an individual customer, or a group of customers. The word complaint does not have to be used in order to identify a complaint, and when a customer expresses dissatisfaction, we will give the customer the choice to have a complaint raised. We will be led by the customer as to how best to deal with their dissatisfaction.	The definition of complaint used within our policy is reflective of that used by the Housing Ombudsman.

1.3	A resident does not have to use the word 'complaint' for it to be treated as such. Whenever a resident expresses dissatisfaction landlords must give them the choice to make complaint. A complaint that is submitted via a third party or representative must be handled in line with the landlord's complaints policy.	Yes	WHAT IS A COMPLAINT Our definition of a complaint, in line with that used by the Housing Ombudsman, is: An expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about Gloucester City Homes, a member of staff's, or a partner's: • action, or • lack of action, or • standard of service which affects an individual customer, or a group of customers. The word complaint does not have to be used in order to identify a complaint, and when a customer expresses dissatisfaction, we will give the customer the choice to have a complaint raised. We will be led by the customer as to how best to deal with their dissatisfaction. Included in our complaints policy:	The policy makes clear that a customer is not required to use the term "complaint" for an issue to be logged as one. This principle is embedded across the organisation and is consistently reinforced through ongoing staff coaching and regular communications. We regularly receive complaints on behalf of customers through a range of channels including issues raised directly by colleagues acting on a customer's behalf, supporting accessible, inclusive, and proactive identification of customer concerns.
1.4	Landlords must recognise the difference between a service request and a complaint. This must be set out in their complaints policy. A service request is a request from a resident to the landlord requiring action to be taken to put something right. Service requests are not complaints, but must be recorded, monitored and reviewed regularly.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: CUSTOMER COMPLAINTS AND DISREPAIR POLICY  Sometimes it may be appropriate to deal with a customer query as a service request rather than a formal complaint, such as where action can be taken immediately to resolve an issue, or when a customer does not want to pursue the matter formally. When this occurs, this will be on agreement with the customer, or upon their request, and will not exclude the customers right to pursue a formal complaint should they wish. Service requests will still be formally recorded and tracked to ensure that the organisation can learn from the feedback received. If a customer is not satisfied with the response or resolution offered for a service request, this will then be raised as a complaint – see appendix B.	This approach is set out within the complaints policy. Service requests raised through the Customer Satisfaction Team are monitored and tracked to completion via the Service Request Tracker. Customers are advised when an issue has been logged as a service request, outlining the actions to be taken, ensuring transparency and clarity,.

1.5	A complaint must be raised when the resident expresses dissatisfaction with the response to their service request, even if the handling of the service request remains ongoing. Landlords must not stop their efforts to address the service request if the resident complains.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: CUSTOMER COMPLAINTS AND DISREPAIR POLICY  Sometimes it may be appropriate to deal with a customer query as a service request rather than a formal complaint, such as where action can be taken immediately to resolve an issue, or when a customer does not want to pursue the matter formally. When this occurs, this will be on agreement with the customer, or upon their request, and will not exclude the customers right to pursue a formal complaint should they wish. Service requests will still be formally recorded and tracked to ensure that the organisation can learn from the feedback received. If a customer is not satisfied with the response or resolution offered for a service request, this will then be raised as a complaint – see appendix B.	This is included in our complaints policy which states what action we will take if a customer is unhappy with the response to their request. We also track service requests received which later become complaints through our Service Request Tracker

1.6	An expression of dissatisfaction with services made through a survey is not defined as a complaint, though wherever possible, the person completing the survey should be made aware of how they can pursue a complaint if they wish to. Where landlords ask for wider feedback about their services, they also must provide details of how residents can complain.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: WHEN ISN'T IT A COMPLAINT? (EXCLUSIONS) - The issue giving rise to the complaint occurred over 12 months ago. - Matters that have previously been considered under the complaints policy. - Reports of anti-social behaviour (ASB). These are handled by our Neighbourhood and Community Safety and Enforcement Teams. - Requests for service. These are delivered by our specialised frontline teams and will be tracked to completion. A complaint may however be raised if there is dissatisfaction in how the service request is handled. See appendix B for further information. - Request for information under GDPR such as a Subject Access Request or a suspected data breach. These are managed by our Data Protection Officer in line with the Data Protection Act 2018. Dissatisfaction with the handling of these specific requests by our Data Protection Officer can be escalated to the Information Commissioner's Office. - Where legal proceedings have commenced and continuing would not be appropriate. - Claims made against GCH's business insurance cover. - Expressions of dissatisfaction made through surveys, such as Tenant Satisfaction Measures, and transactional surveys. - Safeguarding Referrals. - Where the Unacceptable Behaviour Policy has been applied.	This is set out within the complaints policy, which confirms that complaints will not be raised solely on the basis of survey feedback. Our survey partners, Acuity, who deliver both transactional surveys and Tenant Satisfaction Measures, clearly inform customers how they can raise a complaint if they wish. Dissatisfaction may also be identified through opportunity calls, with colleagues following up post-survey results to explore any concerns raised and ensure they are understood and addressed.

Section 2: Exclusions

----------------	------------------	------------------	----------	------------------------

2.1	Landlords must accept a complaint unless there is a valid reason not to do so. If landlords decide not to accept a complaint they must be able to evidence their reasoning. Each complaint must be considered on its own merits	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: WHEN ISN'T IT A COMPLAINT? (EXCLUSIONS) • The issue giving rise to the complaint occurred over 12 months ago. • Matters that have previously been considered under the complaints policy. • Reports of anti-social behaviour (ASB). These are handled by our Neighbourhood and Community Safety and Enforcement Teams. • Requests for service. These are delivered by our specialised frontline teams and will be tracked to completion. A complaint may however be raised if there is dissatisfaction in how the service request is handled. See appendix B for further information. • Request for information under GDPR such as a Subject Access Request or a suspected data breach. These are managed by our Data Protection Officer in line with the Data Protection Act 2018. Dissatisfaction with the handling of these specific requests by our Data Protection Officer can be escalated to the Information Commissioner's Office. • Where legal proceedings have commenced and continuing would not be appropriate. • Claims made against GCH's business insurance cover. • Expressions of dissatisfaction made through surveys, such as Tenant Satisfaction Measures, and transactional surveys. • Safeguarding Referrals. • Where the Unacceptable Behaviour Policy has been applied. Should we decide not to accept a complaint, we will provide the complainant with an explanation as to why the complaint has not been accepted. We will not take a blanket approach to complaints being raised, and each complaint will be considered on its own merit and individual circumstances.	The complaints policy clearly defines what does and does not constitute a complaint, including specific exclusions, and requires that each case is assessed on its individual merits. This ensures consistent and fair decision-making, proportionate application of the policy, and alignment with the requirements of the Complaint Handling Code. A record of any complaint which isn't accepted is kept along with the associated correspondence with the customer advising them of this decision and the reasons why. In 2025-26 13 complaints were refused and these related to issues referred to GCH in error, complaints which has already been addressed through the complaints process, and GDPR issues.

2.2	A complaints policy must set out the circumstances in which a matter will not be considered as a complaint or escalated, and these circumstances must be fair and reasonable to residents. Acceptable exclusions include: • The issue giving rise to the complaint occurred over twelve months ago. • Legal proceedings have started. This is defined as details of the claim, such as the Claim Form and Particulars of Claim, having been filed at court. • Matters that have previously been considered under the complaints policy.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: WHEN ISN'T IT A COMPLAINT? (EXCLUSIONS) • The issue giving rise to the complaint occurred over 12 months ago. • Matters that have previously been considered under the complaints policy. • Reports of anti-social behaviour (ASB). Complaints covered by the above exclusions will not be dealt with in accordance with this Complaints Policy, but through other more relevant procedures, which will better serve the resolution of the issue raised. Customers will be supported to ensure issues raised are appropriately directed. Should we decide not to accept a complaint, we will provide the complainant with an explanation as to why the complaint has not been accepted. We will not take a blanket approach to complaints being raised, and each complaint will be considered on its own merit and individual circumstances. In the event that a complaint is requested to be escalated to stage 2 of the complaint process, this request will be accepted unless there is a valid reason not to. If we refuse to escalate a complaint to stage 2 of the complaint process, we will clearly set out the reasons for this refusal to the complainant.	Exclusions are listed in our complaints policy, along with what will happen if we choose not to escalate a complaint. . A record of any complaint which isn't accepted is kept along with the associated correspondence with the customer advising them of this decision and the reasons why.

2.3	Landlords must accept complaints referred to them within 12 months of the issue occurring or the resident becoming aware of the issue, unless they are excluded on other grounds. Landlords must consider whether to apply discretion to accept complaints made outside this time limit where there are good reasons to do so.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy: WHEN ISN'T IT A COMPLAINT? This is stated within our complaints policy; however each case is reviewed upon its own merit and there may be discretion applied here when required. A record of any complaint which isn't accepted is kept along with the associated correspondence with the customer advising them of this decision and the reasons why.
2.4	If a landlord decides not to accept a complaint, an explanation must be provided to the resident setting out the reasons why the matter is not suitable for the complaints process and the right to take that decision to the Ombudsman. If the Ombudsman does not agree that the exclusion has been fairly applied, the Ombudsman may tell the landlord to take on the complaint.	Yes	Included in our complaints policy : Should we decide not to accept a complaint, we will provide the complainant with an explanation as to why the complaint has not been accepted, along with details on how to contact the Housing Ombudsman for review should they wish. We will not take a blanket approach to complaints being raised, and each complaint will be considered on its own merit and individual circumstances.	This is stated in our complaints policy and any complaints which we decide not to accept are recorded. We retain a log of the complaint details and correspondence with the customer surrounding this. Any correspondence advising that we will not accept a complaint will have Ombudsman details included. A record of any complaint which isn't accepted is kept along with the associated correspondence with the customer advising them of this decision and the reasons why.

In situations where complaints are made on behalf of another person, we will ask for consent to allow us to discuss the matter with a third party. We will manage the complaint process ensuring that we meet the specific needs of our customers. Where appropriate we will make reasonable adjustments to support any vulnerabilities or disabilities you may have, as well as involve elected representatives if this what the customers desires. Yes	Accessibility features on our website: 	Our policy is published on our website, which also has accessibility options to assist those customers who may require further assistance. Yes	Complaints can be made either by the customer or by someone acting on their behalf (representative) such as a relative, friend, Councillor, Member of Parliament, or a member of staff from another agency, (statutory or voluntary). In situations where complaints are made on behalf of another person, we will ask for consent to allow us to discuss the matter with a third party. Yes	We will do our best to work empathetically with customers and carry out thorough and impartial complaint investigations which seek to find resolutions to the issues raised. We will make clear contact details of the Housing Ombudsman throughout the complaint process. If a customer has exhausted our complaints policy and we will support the escalation of their complaint to the Housing Ombudsman at the earliest opportunity where this becomes evident. At any point customers can access support from dispute support advisors at the Housing Ombudsman, not only when the GCH complaints process has been completed. The advisors are able to assist residents throughout the life of a complaint. Section 4: Complaint Handling Staff

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary/explanation
4.1	Landlords must have a person or team assigned to take responsibility for complaint handling, including liaison with the Ombudsman and ensuring complaints are reported to the governing body (or equivalent). This Code will refer to that person or team as the 'complaints officer'. This role may be in addition to other duties.	Yes	The majority of our complaints are resolved at Stage One by our Customer Satisfaction Team who we train and empower to make decisions to put things right for our customers, pay compensation where appropriate and uphold the customer's right to a fair process. Included in our complaints policy:	The Customer Satisfaction Team are responsible for complaint handling. This includes complaint investigations, responding to complaints, and liaising with the Ombudsman where required.
4.2	The complaints officer must have access to staff at all levels to facilitate the prompt resolution of complaints. They must also have the authority and autonomy to act to resolve disputes promptly and fairly.	Yes		Members of the Customer Satisfaction Team can access colleagues across the business to facilitate complaint investigations and resolutions. Any issues experienced in this are raised at relevant meetings, such as Operational Managers, internal board meetings, and regular catch-ups with relevant teams, so that this can be addressed.

4.3	Landlords are expected to prioritise complaint handling and a culture of learning from complaints. All relevant staff must be suitably trained in the importance of complaint handling. It is important that complaints are seen as a core service and must be resourced to handle complaints effectively	Yes	 Complaints Handling for Housing Associations Included in our e-learning system, SkillGate.	A dedicated customer satisfaction team was introduced in July 2023 to manage and prioritise complaints. All front-line colleagues have completed complaint handling training, which is also mandatory training for new colleagues. All frontline colleagues continue to receive catch-ups and refresher training to ensure that this remains compliant. This has fostered a culture of embracing complaints with a positive attitude throughout the organisation.

Section 5: The Complaint Handling Process

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary/explanation
5.1	Landlords must have a single policy in place for dealing with complaints covered by this Code. Residents must not be treated differently if they complain.	Yes	Included in our complaints and disrepair policy: Gloucester City Homes is committed to providing the best possible service that we can. However, we recognise that sometimes customers may feel they have cause to complain about the service they have received. We encourage all feedback from customers, and we welcome complaints as an opportunity to learn from mistakes and put things right. This Complaints Policy explains our complaint handling approach which is aligned to meet the Housing Ombudsman's Complaint Handling Code. The associated Complaints Procedure provides a detailed guidance for staff to follow. We aim to handle complaints fairly, as a priority concern and with a strong focus on the customer. To support this we hold briefings, carry out training and coach our employees on customer service and complaint management to promote a positive complaint handling culture which seeks to learn from mistakes and continuously improve our services.	The only policy covering complaints and complaint handling is the complaints and disrepair policy. Customers are treated fairly and empathetically. Customers are not treated differently if they raise a complaint.

5.2	The early and local resolution of issues between landlords and residents is key to effective complaint handling. It is not appropriate to have extra named stages (such as 'stage 0' or 'informal complaint') as this causes unnecessary confusion.	Yes	Included in our complaints process: We have a two stage complaints process which is detailed below, although we aim to resolve all complaints where possible at the first point of contact.	There are no additional stages in our complaints process. Our complaints process is a two-stage process.
5.3	A process with more than two stages is not acceptable under any circumstances as this will make the complaint process unduly long and delay access to the Ombudsman.	Yes	Included in our complaints process: We have a two stage complaints process which is detailed below, although we aim to resolve all complaints where possible at the first point of contact.	There are no additional stages in our complaints process. Our complaints process is a two-stage process.
5.4	Where a landlord's complaint response is handled by a third party (e.g. a contractor or independent adjudicator) at any stage, it must form part of the two-stage complaints process set out in this Code. Residents must not be expected to go through two complaint processes.	Not Applicable		We do not have complaints handled by third parties.
5.5	Landlords are responsible for ensuring that any third parties handle complaints in line with the Code.	Not Applicable		We do not have complaints handled by third parties.

5.6	When a complaint is logged at Stage 1 or escalated to Stage 2, landlords must set out their understanding of the complaint and the outcomes the resident is seeking. The Code will refer to this as “the complaint definition”. If any aspect of the complaint is unclear, the resident must be asked for clarification.	Yes	We will do our best to work empathetically with customers and carry out thorough and impartial complaint investigations which seek to find resolutions to the issues raised. We will make clear contact details of the Housing Ombudsman throughout the complaint process. If a customer has exhausted our complaints policy and we will support the escalation of their complaint to the Housing Ombudsman at the earliest opportunity where this becomes evident. Included in our complaint policy: Once you tell us you wish to make a formal complaint we will: • Acknowledge your complaint within 5 working days with a reference number and details of the person who will deal with the complaint. • Register your complaint and pass it to a complaint handler with the right skills and experience who will: ◦ Contact you to discuss the complaint in full, check the scope of the complaint, the details of the situation and give you fair opportunity to set out your position and establish what resolution you are seeking. Improvement opportunities arising from complaints are considered at this level, supporting effective challenge, informed decision-making, and the embedding of improvements into service delivery.
9.5	In addition to this a member of the governing body (or equivalent) must be appointed to have lead responsibility for complaints to support a positive complaint handling culture. This person is referred to as the Member Responsible for Complaints ('the MRC').	Yes		The member responsible for complaints is the Chair of our Customer Experience Committee.
9.6	The MRC will be responsible for ensuring the governing body receives regular information on complaints that provides insight on the landlord's complaint handling performance. This person must have access to suitable information and staff to perform this role and report on their findings.	Yes		Following each Customer Experience Committee meeting, the MRC provides an update to the wider Board. The Customer Experience Committee receives quarterly oversight of complaint volumes, key themes, and performance, ensuring regular scrutiny and effective escalation of complaint-handling insights through the governance structure. The MRC also attended the Housing Ombudsman Session for MRCs in October 2025.

9.7	As a minimum, the MRC and the governing body (or equivalent) must receive: a. regular updates on the volume, categories and outcomes of complaints, alongside complaint handling performance; b. regular reviews of issues and trends arising from complaint handling; c. regular updates on the outcomes of the Ombudsman's investigations and progress made in complying with orders related to severe maladministration findings; and d. annual complaints performance and service improvement report.	Yes		The MRC is provided with the relevant information set out in the Code, including oversight of Housing Ombudsman cases. As at Quarter 4 2025/26, no new determinations were received during the quarter, with four cases determined during the year. Outcomes, compliance with orders, and resulting learning are tracked and reported to the Customer Experience Committee, supporting assurance that Ombudsman findings are systematically monitored, embedded, and acted upon.

9.8	Landlords must have a standard objective in relation to complaint handling for all relevant employees or third parties that reflects the need to: a. have a collaborative and cooperative approach towards resolving complaints, working with colleagues across teams and departments; b. take collective responsibility for any shortfalls identified through complaints, rather than blaming others; and c. act within the professional standards for engaging with complaints as set by any relevant professional body.	Yes		The majority of complaints are handled by the Customer Satisfaction team who have clear objectives set out in their job descriptions. In addition to this, there are objectives detailed in all colleagues regular W.O.R.K. reviews relating to responsibility for complaints.
